

Lee's Poem for NWR Diamond Anniversary

Twass many years ago that our Register Group began,
We met on Monday evenings , Women only was the plan
We left the kids at home with dad,
And really were elated to find
That we were not allowed to be domesticated
To tackle every subject was the object and the aim
To have a lively mind and really stimulate the brain

The speakers were enjoyed from nearly every walk of life
Spoke on history and mystery and how to cope with strife
And Geology, Zoology and travelling the world
Psychology, Entemology, each fact at us they hurled
And as our eager listening ears every fact explored
I can truly say for sure, we were rarely ever bored!

Our subjects grew more venturesome as we all searched our brains,
Royalty, Loyalty and who invented drains
Art and Music, Poetry, Archaeology and Dogs
Current affairs, Polar Bears and television progs!

Discussions from the Nationals and then a quiz or two
Oh Boy! We kept them coming, education grew!
Then having put the world to rights on measures we would take We'd always end each evening with tea and cake

And so our ideas sparkled at Programme Planning evenings
We all were really at our best drinking wine and eating!
So we sampled food from everywhere, our cooking skills
we needed to produce the dishes from round the world
(No diets were ever heeded!)

So for our anniversary we'll glitter and we'll glow
We'll wear our bling and silver so everyone will know
That ladies here in Nantwich have a lively mind
But worth far more than diamonds is the friendship you'll find More valuable and coveted and shining bright is the Diamond glow of friendship on Register Night
For members of NWR are valued and treasured
And advantages of Register far beyond measure

But you will all agree I'm sure with this message that I send
That after all is said and done, Diamonds are a girl's best friend
